ADVISORY (2PM): EMERGENCY OXFORD UNI COMMUNITY RALLY AT SHELDONIAN TO DELIVER DEMANDS AT VICE CHANCELLOR AWARDS

8 MAY, 2024

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ADVISORY: 2PM

EMERGENCY RALLY FOR GAZA AT SHELDONIAN THEATRE ACTION 4 PALESTINE RALLIES AT SHELDONIAN

8 May 2024; Oxford, UK; Oxford Action for Palestine has called an emergency rally today at the Sheldon Theatre to hand deliver its demands to Vice-Chancellor Irene Tracy during the Vice-Chancellor's Awards ceremony.

WHEN: 2pm, 8 MAY 2024

WHERE: Sheldonian Theatre

WHAT: Oxford University Vice Chancellor Awards – EMERGENCY RALLY, ALL OUT FOR RAFAH

On its social media accounts, the OxAct4Pal coalition called the community to action, stating:

"Israel has intensified its assault on Rafah, where half of Gaza's population is sheltering after being violently displaced. Israel is controlling entry/exit points, blocking evacuations and blocking aid, all while carpet bombing densely populated areas.

As always, we escalate for Gaza. Join us at the Sheldonian to hand-deliver our demands to the Vice-Chancellor. There will be no business as usual during genocide."

The OxAct4Pal Coalition begin its encampment in front of the Pitt Rivers Museum in Oxford on Monday morning. Thus far, over five hundred community members have participated in camp activities throughout the week, with over sixty camping overnight.

Over 350 faculty and staff have also penned a letter in wholehearted support of the encampment. For the full faculty support statement, as well as a Press Kit with other statements and media materials, please see: linktr.ee/OxAct4Pal.
